JUNE 15th

INDIVIDUAL HOROSCOPE

SOME of the predictions in this Horoscope may at times, appear contradictory. In preparing this Horoscope, I have made an attempt to interpret as many different planetary aspects as possible, for all persons born on this day, without taking the year of birth into consideration. Of course, you can readily understand that the year of birth is a very important factor in casting a Horoscope that would be exact in all details. For information pertaining to your Personal Horoscope, write to Zolar direct.

Individual Predictions for the Coming 4 Months:

BUSINESS: Opportunity to advance in a business way through careful and well laid plans is indicated. This can be an industrious period if you care to make it so. Interests that entail much detail work are likely to turn out most satisfactory.

FINANCE: If you can keep from being extravagant and direct your forces into constructive channels, you will be able to smooth out financial affairs to your own liking. As the planetary influences are more or less neutral, no spectacular returns can be expected from new ventures.

TRAVEL: During the coming four months you will probably feel the urge to move around from one place to another. Changes or removals, if given careful consideration, could prove both beneficial and profitable. Journeys for pleasure may bring you in contact with superiors in a business or social way.

SOCIAL: The favorable aspects to your sign should bring you many hours of enjoyment and happiness. You may possibly find yourself moving in an entirely different social circle than heretofore. The friends you meet are likely to be interesting people with advanced views and original ideas.

HEALTH: While no serious ailments are indicated, the vibrations in force where your health is concerned, may be such as to cause you some anxiety; mainly because you are unable to find just where the trouble lies. This will be due mostly to an unbalanced mental and emotional condition.

CAUTION: Use common sense in handling money. Avoid being over-ambitious, or you might over-estimate your responsibilities and so miss the real interests at hand. Nothing of a drastic nature is indicated during this period.

Dear Friend:

The most opportune periods for your various activities now appear on the following two pages. It is very important that you consult the planetary aspects in the various departments of your life before undertaking any important steps.

I have received so many countless letters from my followers telling me how much they have missed my Handwriting Analysis, that I am going to offer free of charge, to Zolar readers, a two-page Handwriting Analysis, based upon the science of Graphology. Send your name, address, birthdate, and a stamped self-addressed envelope, and enclose a 3c stamp to cover the cost of mailing.

PLANETARY ASPECTS

According to the science of Astrology, the Zodiac, which is an imaginary circle of the Universe, is divided into twelve parts. Each of these twelve parts represent the twelve houses or departments of your life, pertaining to your mental, physical, emotional and material activities.

The following are the major planetary aspects for the months of September, October, November and December, pertaining to the twelve departments of your life, which are aspected from time to time by the constantly moving planets in relation to the position of the Sun on the day you were born.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR READING

If the word FAVORABLE appears next to a given month of any department, this means that the majority of the planetary aspects are good.

If however, the word UNFAVORABLE appears next to a given month, this means that you should be particularly careful and cautious in all undertakings and activities, as the majority of the planetary aspects will be adverse during this period.

The word NEUTRAL means that the planetary aspects are either evenly divided, or that their influence is negligible and very weak. Therefore much will depend upon your own ability and good judgment during this period.

There has been much discussion pro and con as to whether or not Astrology may be used in helping to solve many of the perplexing problems that confront us from time to time.

After many years of study, research and application, it is my opinion that the science of Astrology, coupled with Applied Psychology, has been of great service to many thousands of my followers, during the past ten years.

Here are two examples of the many problems that I receive daily.—

Question: Dear Zolar:—

Recently I became a widow, and was left with a three year old daughter. The funeral expenses and my husband's debts have left me penniless. There is a man born July 28th, who is very fond of me and my little girl, and who would like to marry me. My birth-date is March 29th. Do you think that we could be happy together, or should I look for a position, and try to make a go of it alone?

Answer: Dear Friend:—

The gentleman in question, being born under the Sun sign of Leo, will no doubt prove to be a good provider, and according to the astrological vibrations, he should be very compatible to your Aries temperament. It is my opinion that you should accept this man's offer of marriage. By so doing, I feel that you will prevent many of the heartaches and hardships that you may otherwise encounter if you went out into the world alone at this time.

Question: Dear Zolar:—

My birthdate is September 7th, 1896. I am planning a trip during the month of January, and am very anxious to know whether or not the planetary aspects are favorable at that time. I contemplate doing considerable travel by motor car and water.

Answer: Dear Friend:—

According to the planetary aspects in your Horoscope, the month of January is not favorable for long journeys or radical changes. I suggest that you postpone this trip until February, at which time, the aspects in your Horoscope appear to be more favorable, due to the benefic influences in your ninth house, which controls such activities.

If you have a perplexing problem on which you would like Zolar's opinion, you may write to him direct for information on how you may obtain this service.

Zolar does not answer any questions pertaining to lost articles or missing persons. He makes no claim to super-natural powers, and the advice given is strictly his own, based upon the sciences of Astrology and Applied Psychology.
